Head of Primary's Message

Who run my world

#InternationalWomensDay

Dear parents,

“A girl should be two things: who and what she wants.”

Coco Chanel

Firstly, I would like to say Happy International Women's Day to the mothers, daughters and sisters of our community. Thank you for all you do.

At the weekend, our Dance Varsity squad ventured to Dubai College to take part in the Dubai Desert Dance. This non-competitive event focuses on the celebration of performing arts. Our squad did amazingly and were commended with an award for their choreography. This is testament to both the skills of Ms. Rini, but also the commitment of the dancers.

On Tuesday, our year 4-6 ALPHA students were invited to the 'fuel your power' workshop at Expo City to celebrate International Women's Day. The students were able to take a tour of the Women's Pavilion where they learned about inspirational women and their achievements. After the tour, they were able to showcase what inspired them by creating their own fuel your power boxes.

Reading month continues and has seen many Drop Everything And Read (D.E.A.R) moments continue. Students have had the chance to read with their buddy classes, listen to parents read (this was amazing to see!), watch wonderful assemblies about different books and some of us even got to hear Mr James' (very dramatic) rendition of Julia Donaldson's 'Where's my Mum?'. I am delighted to see how engaged the children are with their physical books.

World Maths Day saw our students participating in many challenges against students from all around the world, using the Mathletics app. There was certainly a passion for maths permeating through the school. One of the proverbial 'cherry on the cake' moments was proudly handing over a certificate to one particular student, Aiden in Year 5, who came 3rd overall for his age group in the regional Mathletics competition.

A gentle reminder for Homerooms to make 2 Ramadan gift boxes. These can be made in which ever way the reps and parents decide, wrapped and then sent into the school. We ask this to be done before the 16th of March, so that we can be ready to hand them out before the Spring Break.

Kind regards,
Tom Collar
